الامتحان في ست صفحات

Question Number One: (25 marks)*Read the following text then answer the questions below: ( 25 points)

Tip ( 1 ) . B. Just do it! ..... It's so easy to make excuses and find ways to avoid the thing you know you should be doing. Experts advise us to break this habit by becoming aware of our own excuses. The 'right time' to do something never arrives: the best time to do something is usually now. Once you've got started, you'll probably find that it wasn't as hard as you thought.

Tip ( 2 ) E. First things first ..... It's important to make yourself a 'to do' list or exam revision timetable, but remember that listing things isn't the same as doing them (see Tip 1!). Once you've worked out what needs to be done, decide which tasks have the highest priority and which can be left till later.

Tip ( 3 ) C. Keep going ..... It's inevitable that things don't always go as well as you expect them to. If you find that you've 'hit a wall', there are two things you can do. First, persevere: with a bit more effort, you may find that you break through the wall. But if that doesn't work, try having a (short) break. Do something completely different, and come back to the task.

Tip ( 4 ) A. Look after yourself ..... Even if you're under stress, there's no point making yourself ill – that will just make the pressure worse. Make sure you remember to eat regularly and healthily, and, even though it may be hard, try to get enough sleep.

Tip ( 5 ) D. One step at a time ..... You can't always make your brain work 'on demand'. Don't spend too long on one task, and learn to recognise when you're slowing down. Divide large tasks into smaller parts that are easier to manage, and reward yourself for completing them by doing something fun.

Question Number Two: (15 marks)*Read the text and find answers to the questions below:

The future is always hard to see clearly until it has become the present or, better, the past. One thing is very clear, though: we face a world of increasing change in the ways that we live and work. What will tomorrow's world of work be like for people who are trying to prepare for it today? We have to try to look into the future in order to be ready for it.

The key point is globalisation. This brings us all many benefits. The food we eat, the clothes we wear, and the machines and energy we use are often imported from far away. Globalisation takes other forms, too. Cheap, rapid transport allows us to travel round the world in a day. In fact, we do not even need to travel. We can talk to someone in Belgium almost as easily as we can talk to someone in the same room. Cheap, modern telecommunications also move ideas, news and data round the world in seconds.

However, globalized manufacturing is certainly not all good news. The shock of cheap goods, often from the Far East, has destroyed whole industries in other parts of the world because they cannot compete. In their fight to do so, many organizations have moved their own operations to regions with lower costs - again generally in the Far East. This has often left behind major unemployment and social problems, affecting everyone from car workers in America to shoe makers in Palestine.

Not surprisingly, some countries try to protect their industries through high import taxes. However, free trade always wins against protectionism in the end. It does so because it offers the consumer the widest possible choice at the lowest possible price. And the consumer is king.

1. Answer the following questions:*(4 points)

1. When can we see the future clearly?
When it becomes a present or past.
2. Why does free trade always win against protectionism?
Because it offers the consumer the widest possible choice at the lowest possible price.
3. What is the only thing that we are sure about the future?
We are sure that we will face a world of increasing change in the ways that we live and work.
4. Why have many organizations moved their own operations to regions with lower costs?
Because the cheap goods have destroyed their industries and they cannot compete there with high costs.
